availed ourselves largely of the rare opportunity offered to PURCHASE FOR CASH, the benefit of which we have been and are still offering to our generous patrons.

A CARD.
We would respectfully call the attention of the public to a watchmaker's establishment placed in our window, showing the exact time. It is entirely of American manufacture, and has been exhibited at the World's Fair in Paris in competition with the best London and French Chronometers, and also at the World's Fair in New York, and in every instance has received the highest premium for unequalled workmanship and correct time-keeping.
To our watch department we have secured the services of Mr. Ed. Heilig, of New York. Mr. H. can execute any kind of watch-work fully equal to Jurgensen, Frodham, Adams, or any of the first London or Swiss makers.
In many fine Watches that are broken parts are substituted greatly inferior to the original, the customer paying the full price for a perfect piece of work. The Watch apparently performs well afterward for a while, but is more imperfect and less valuable than originally.

FRANK VILLI, IND., Nov. 17, '57.
Dear Sir: I have tried your Pectoral in a well-marked and severe case of pulmonary consumption, accompanied with severe hemorrhage from the lungs, in which Cod Liver Oil totally failed to produce any beneficial effect, and I was perfectly astonished at the immediate relief and diminution in the amount of expectoration which speedily followed its use. As a remedy in the advanced stages of consumption I give it most decidedly the preference.

ED. T. STURGEON.

Captain Wm. V. Taylor, of the navy, died at his residence, in Newport, at 2 o'clock, on Thursday morning, aged 70 years. It is stated that in the battle of Lake Erie he navigated the Lawrence, Commodore Perry's flag ship, into and during the action. His last cruise was in command of the Ohio 74, on a cruise to the Pacific. Since that time the infirmities of age have gradually overcome him.

Our friend Sparks with the facility of a knight of the quill. Besides all his other good qualities, he is a handsome man, and we shall not be surprised to hear of his kindling a flame in some lady's bosom.

To the Editors of the Louisville Bulletin: ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY,
Louisville, Feb. 16, 1858.
Robert Castillo, one of the unfortunate men who was shot in Indianapolis on Saturday night last, died of his wounds at one o'clock yesterday morning.
The other, Christopher Hohl, at 12 o'clock last night was still breathing, but his death was momentarily looked for. Yesterday, Gilligan, the captured mur-derer, was clandestinely conveyed by the sheriff to Mr. Hohl's residence, and some men called in who favored Gilligan's appearance and all brought in Hohl's presence. The sheriff then called upon Hohl to know if there were any among those present who shot at him on Saturday night last. After looking at the inmates closely, his eyes fell instantly upon the murderer. Ah, said the dying man addressing himself to Gilligan, you are one of the party who shot me! and killed poor Castillo. Are you not?
Gilligan did not directly deny the accusation, but tried to palliate it on the plea of his being intoxicated when the fray occurred. The prisoner, after being identified by his victim, was forthwith returned to safe keeping to await further developments.

The other participant in the outrage is still at large, and no clue has yet been obtained of his whereabouts. When interrogated, Gilligan strictly protested against divulging the name of his accomplices.
Throughout the whole of yesterday Indianapolis was the scene of intense excitement, every thoroughfare being thronged with exasperated citizens, and each countenance teeming with indignation. At one time during the day a crowd assembled who would have taken the prisoner forcibly and hanged him had it not been for the expostulations and eloquent appeals of the authorities. I am happy to state that the pleadings of the city fathers had quite an excellent tendency. None of the gentlemen were unmercifully knocked down with brick-bats in their manly efforts to sustain the good character of their city. On the contrary, their appeals were listened to and appreciated by their fellow citizens, who returned to their homes like law abiding men, fully imbued with the assurance that their civil authorities would quickly and justly mete out retribution to the fiends who outraged the community.
W. C. SPARKS,
Messenger of Adams Express.

THE NORFOLK AND ORLEANS STEAM ROUTE.
The following extract from a letter of Hon. J. Y.
Mason to Col. Ellis, of Richmond, published in the Enquirer, gives some interesting information with regard to the projected Orleans and Norfolk route: By one of those accidents, which sometimes exert such potent influence on human affairs as to justify the belief in a special Providence, Mr. Preston was placed in communication with the Orleans Railroad Company. Mr. Preston and I visited Nantes and San Nazaire, at the mouth of the Loire. At the latter point, the French government is constructing the most magnificent artificial harbor in the world.
Opening to the ocean, a ship sailing between that port and Chesapeake Bay would save a considerable time and will find her route shorter by a considerable time than between Havre and the same point. On our return to Nantes, Mr. Preston was called on by the Chief Engineer and a Director of the Orleans Company, and explanations were so satisfactorily made that a negotiation was commenced, which, I think, is about to end in a complete success, if his constituents approve the basis of agreement. I will leave him to make known the terms of the proposition. I content myself with saying that he has done me the honor to confer with me at every stage of the negotiation, and that he has conducted it with most honorable candor and with consummate ability.

I will add that the Orleans Company has a large capital, is the best managed Company in France, and owns a fleet of railroads which cover one-third of the Empire, connecting Paris with the ocean, and connecting with other lines to Switzerland, Italy, and Germany. I think our friends will be gratified that his arrangement will, if adopted, secure at such a trifling cost, now and for the future, such a valuable advantage for us and our lines of improvement. I congratulate myself that no occasion has arisen for an application to the Imperial Government.

XXXVTH CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.
Tuesday's Proceedings.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.
Senate.—Mr. Houston to-day presented a resolution instructing the committee on foreign relations to inquire into the expediency of the Government's establishing a protectorate over Central America.
Laid over.
Mr. Hale, of N. H., submitted a resolution instructing the post office committee to inquire whether the transmission of mail between Washington and Boston cannot be expedited so as to prevent a detention of 12 hours in New York. Adopted.
Mr. Thompson, of N. J., presented a bill to establish a port of entry at Fort Mifflin, New Jersey.
Mr. Chandler, of Me., submitted bills making appropriations for deepening the channel of Sabury's river and St. Clair Falls, Michigan. Referred.
Mr. Mason, of Virginia, called for the joint resolution providing for the reception of the Turkish Vice Admiral.
Mr. Clay, of Alabama, objected to the expenditure of money for such a purpose, as there was no limit to the amount, and no benefit could accrue from it.
House.—Mr. Letcher, of Virginia, from the Committee of Ways and Means, reported the deficiency appropriation bill.
Mr. Boyce, of South Carolina, called up the contested election case of Mr. Brooks contesting the seat of Mr. H. Winter Davis, of Maryland, on the ground that the election was carried by fraud and violence. Mr. Boyce argued against the prayer of Mr. Brooks, who asks exemption from the operation of the law of 1851, and that the Committee on Elections proceed to take testimony.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.
Last night officer McHenry arrested W. Fleming alias W. F. Norton, suspected of being the murderer of H. F. Robertson, of Winchester, Tenn., about Christmas. Subsequent information induces the belief that the same person followed Gen. Calhoun and his party from Kansas with nefarious designs.
He has been committed for further examination until the reception of information from Tennessee Col. Carpenter, of Chicago, has been retained by Gen. Calhoun to assist in the prosecution.

TAMAQUA, Pa., Feb. 16.
J. Edward Barnes, superintendent of the Little Schuylkill Navigation and Railroad Co., and Duncan Wier, a mine agent, were suffocated in a mine, a short distance from this place, yesterday afternoon, by the gas. Their bodies were taken out about 11 o'clock last night.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 16.
Four large buildings on Fulton street, near the ferry landing, occupied as a carriage repository, alcohol distillery, boarding houses, etc., were destroyed by fire this morning. The loss probably exceeds $50,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.
The sailing of the Philadelphia has been postponed until the 18th.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 16.
Late advices from Kansas state that a party of Lane's men had visited Westport, Mo., in search of Mr. Danforth, a member of the Leecompton convention. The Missourians made no resistance.
Stofer, the Democratic representative of Leavenworth county, was recovering from the wounds received in the late attempt to murder him.
The grocery of Pat Laughlin, who killed Collins at Doniphan a year or two ago, was broken open during his absence, a few nights since, and its contents burned in the street.
A skirmish is said to have occurred at Fort Scott.
No particulars given. Denver refused to send troops there.

EXPLOSION OF NAPHTHA AT SEA.—Dreadful suffering and loss of life amongst the crew.—On last Christmas day, the ship New England sailed from New York bound for Glasgow. The crew, inclusive of officers, comprised eighteen men. A short time after the pilot left, a terrible storm came on and caused the sea to sweep over and partially fill the vessel. The men were ordered to the pumps; and in the midst of hail and rain, they day after day stood up to their waists in water, and almost perished with cold. Notwithstanding the continuous efforts of the men, the water gained ground and the vessel began to sink. The captain, A. Pemper, seeing the state of affairs to be increasingly perilous, directed certain portions of the cargo to be thrown overboard with a view of keeping the vessel afloat a little longer. During the lighting of the shot a circumstance or other, a large quantity of naphtha ignited, causing a fearful explosion, and ran in liquid flames over the deck, making dreadful havoc amongst the seamen. One person was standing on a part of the vessel under which the naphtha was stored, and when the explosion occurred he was completely enveloped in flames; five others, including the first officer, were dreadfully burnt, and in addition to the burning, one boy had his thigh broken. The men who escaped were serious injuries had been fast approaching a fatal crisis, the bark Cora Linn, Capt. J. Gouly, came sufficiently near to rescue the whole of the men from the burning vessel.—Phil. Journal.
